- Dieterich Buxtehude (1637–1707)

Opening Hymn 733 Once in royal David's city IRBY

Asperges occur during the hymn; as the Celebrant sprinkles Holy Water on the congregation, it is customary to bow and the make the sign of the cross.

Introit When-as all the world was in profoundest quietness, and night was in the midst of her swift course: thine almighty word, O Lord, leaped down from heaven out of thy royal throne. Ps. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparel: the Lord hath put on his apparel, and girded himself with strength. Glory be ... When-as all the world ...

Proclamation of the Word (see insert) pp. 3-5

Isaiah 63:7–9

Psalms 148. Laudate Dominum.

Hebrews 2:10–18

Gradual Hymn 82 O little town of Bethlehem FOREST GREEN

Gradual Thou art fairer than the children of men: full of grace are thy lips. My heart is inditing of a good matter; I speak of the things which I have made unto the King: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer. Alleluia, alleluia. The Lord is King, and hath put on glorious apparel: the Lord hath put on his apparel, and girded himself with strength. Alleluia.

Holy Gospel Matthew 2:13–23 (see insert) p. 4

Sermon

Nicene Creed p. 5

Prayers of the People (see below) p. 6

Confession, Absolution, and The Peace pp. 6–8

Offertory God hath made the round world so sure that it cannot be moved: ever since the world began hath thy seat, O God, been prepared; thou art from everlasting.

Offertory Hymn 747 Shepherds in the field abiding IRIS

Canon of the Mass pp. 9-16

Communion Take the young Child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young Child's life.

In Heaven the starry saints will wipe away (Sabbaths 1999 V)
by Wendell Barry

In Heaven the starry saints will wipe away
The tears forever from our eyes, but they Must not cease the memory of our grief
Its bliss, even, there can be no relief
If we forget this place, shade-haunted, parched
Or flooded, dark or bright, where we have watched
The world always becoming what it is,
Splendor and woe surpassing happiness
Or sorrow, loss sweeping it as a floor.
This shadowed passage between door and door
Is half-lit by old words we've heard or read.
As the living recall the dead, the dead
Are joyless until they call back their lives:
Fallen like leaves, the husbands and the wives
In history's ignorant, bloody to-and-fro,
Eternally in love, and in time learning so.
